Dragich Is Named Madison School Supt.

Board Hires 2 Teachers, Teacher Aide; Accepts Three Resignations

Raymond Dragich of Madison was appointed as superintendent of schools of the Madison school district at a meeting of the board of education Tuesday night.

He succeeds the late Wessel Brown, who died suddenly in August. His salary was set at $15,000 per year, retroactive to Dec. 1.

Dragich, 40, a graduate of Madison high school, received his bachelor and master degrees at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, where he was principal at Harris school, assistant Madison county superintendent of schools and administrative assistant to the Madison superintendent. He has been serving as acting superintendent during the last term.

Hire Teachers
The board hired Mrs. Terry Papa of Granite City as a second grade teacher at Harris school and Mrs. Patricia Ann Ruppert of Madison as a second grade teacher at Blair school. Both will be graduating at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Also employed was Mrs. Ann Coleman as a teacher aide at Blair school.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Dorothea Roberts, teacher at Blair school, whose husband is in the west; Mrs. Susan Dragich, teacher at Harris school; and Mrs. Beulah Williams, a teacher aide at Blair school.

It was announced that Philip Mehelich of Madison, a senior at SIU-SW, will serve as practice teacher in the sixth grade at Louis Bar School beginning Jan. 4.

Christmas Holiday
The board adopted a resolution to revise the school calendar and declare a special holiday during the week after Christmas. The calendar had showed classes between Christmas and New Year.

The board authorized Dragich to continue a study of a proposed joint program with the Venice school district to qualify for federal funds under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The superintendent discussed establishment with Venice of a materials center on wheels for films, tapes, visual aids and related equipment to aid the curriculum and educational programs of both school districts.

Neither school has sufficient enrollment to qualify for federal funds separately under provisions of the law.

A report by Ray Kozielec, school treasurer, showed Dec. 1 cash balances of $377,135 in the educational fund, $433,135 in the school lunch fund, $183,931 in the 1966 building fund, $67,463 in the fund for equipment.

County EOC Plans 5 Centers; 2 Here

$225,000 Federal Grant To Be Sought; Self Help Program Is Outlined

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission will seek an estimated $225,000 in federal funds to establish five neighborhood service centers and several related stations within the county.

Included are two major centers in the Quad-Cities and three in the Greater Alton area.

Representatives of 27 social service agencies, such as school district and hospital administrators, United Fund, Red Cross, Boy Scout officials, municipal authorities and various state agencies with local offices, heard the proposed program outlined Monday afternoon by Maurice S. Harris, county EOC director, and David A. Walker, assistant director.

Thirty-two attended the special session held in the board of supervisors room, Edwardsville. The program will be outlined again next Monday evening for official approval by commission members, with the application for funds to be submitted to the Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, D. C., later the same week.

Walker to Guide Program
Walker, executive director of the neighborhood center program, if federal funds are allocated, told the agencies' representatives. "Implementation of this type of program would be the major turning point in the commission's history," he said.

Primary function of the neighborhood service centers, the official explained, is to provide a base for community organizations to develop a self-help concept, incorporation of all services offered by the anti-poverty program, such as legal aid, health, employment aid and neighborhood youth corps; and to furnish the vehicles through which existing agencies can operate.

Walker stressed the EOC plans no duplication of present services in a community but envisions a coordinated effort by agencies such as the Salvation Army, Protestant Welfare, Catholic Charities, Red Cross, Family Services and United Fund agencies among others, by which they can more easily work together to help the hard-core poverty areas.

$500 Low Income Families
He added that a survey taken last year showed approximately 500 families live in Madison county with annual incomes below the $3000 poverty guideline figure.

Ninety-one percent of these are located in the Greater Alton and Tri-Cities areas. Walker explained, "These are the regions in which we hope to locate the five principal centers with additional satellite centers in areas such as Eagle Park, Wood River, Edwardsville and Collinsville," he added.

The assistant director continued, "It is vitally important that social service agencies support the program and if possible assist in providing personnel to train center staff members. We also need your help in acquiring the kind of services and facilities which are needed in communities where buildings to be used as centers."

Size of Lewis & Clark Park Still Unsettled

A long-standing dispute over how many acres should be annexed to the Lewis & Clark Memorial Park near Hartford went unresolved again Monday night in a meeting of local members of the Illinois Lewis & Clark Trail Commission at East Alton.

The meeting ended, after several hours discussion, without agreement as to size of the proposed park, but with tentative plans for another meeting Jan. 19 with the entire membership of the 14-man state trail commission.

This would include six state commission members, including Gene Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development who has been trying to get the problem solved by local interests.

Pending Two Years
Arguments over the extent of the park expansion began more than two years ago with establishment by Congress of the U. S. National Lewis and Clark Trail Commission.

Of remarking, developing and publicizing the expedition trail from its starting point at Lewis and Clark Memorial park to Astoria, Ore.

Illinois at first was left off the 10-state commission, although the expedition starts from the north end of the Chain of Rocks Canal.

Large park proponents are led by Elmer H. Lewis, executive director of the Lewis and Clark Society and a member of the state trail commission who is active on the National Commission.

Big Haul by Burglars At GC Home Last Night

A large variety of items were taken in a burglary at the home of Mrs. Joseph Dietrich, 3136 Myrtle avenue, between 6 and 8 p.m. Wednesday. Entry was gained by breaking the rear door glass and unlocking the door.

Taken were a 19-inch portable television set, a 32-caliber revolver, an instant developing camera, a movie camera, several men's suits, several pairs of men's slacks, a man's gold wedding band, about $10 in coins from a jar, three men's sweaters, nine women's shell blouses, a gold cross necklace, a man's watch, a man's raincoat, a gift-wrapped electric clock, two gift-wrapped toys, a $400 Neopac jewelry box with four diamonds and a lady's watch.

Toys Stolen from Auto
Two "chase-away" toys valued at $10 were stolen from the auto of Jack Graham, 2233 Benard street, when it was parked on the lot at 340 Edwards street, between 6:30 and 10:15 p.m. Tuesday, he reported to police.

The office at Jack Hart Auto Sales, 1150 N. Washington avenue, was ransacked during a burglary Sunday night, it was reported Monday. The east window of the office was broken, unlocked and raised to gain entry. It was unknown if anything was missing.

A gray 1964 two-door auto owned by Joe Nickless, Alton, was stolen between 4 and 7 p.m. Monday from 22nd and Adams streets, he reported at 7:30 p.m.

Kenetha, 4845 S. Main street, has avenue, reported Monday that the auto transistor radio was taken from his 1958 car while it was parked at his home.

Bank 'Examiner' Trying To Defraud Widows Here
Quadrants were cautioned today against a hoax in which a bank examiner would call them by telephone, tell them their accounts are short due to "a teller's theft" and persuade them to remain in the position. He has been in ill health most of this year.

Before being elected state attorney, Bartylak served actively in the highest category of particulate suspension, 40 (Continued on page 22, col. 5)

Four Report Thefts Of Christmas Lights
Granite City police received four reports early this week of youngsters stealing Christmas decoration lights from yards.

The reports were made by Mrs. Tom Ryan, 2328 Sheridan avenue; Linda Whitten, 2838 Marshall avenue; at 2841 Wayne avenue, and from Ronald Veach, 3204 Carlson avenue.

A fire in a bath tub in one of the new unoccupied units of Anchorage Homes caused $1200 damage, mostly from smoke, at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Firemen said a cigarette apparently was thrown in the tub which contained clothing and rubbish, including scraps of rubber. The building has yet to be accepted by the housing authority and extensive repairs will be required by the contractor.

Gateway Council Delays Vote on Clean Air Law

Illinois Area Members Favor More Technical Study Of Limitations

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, confronted by last-minute objections raised by seven of the council's voting members, delayed its intended approval of a model air pollution control ordinance yesterday afternoon and agreed to a further study of technical factors that have been in dispute since completion of the Interstate Air Pollution Study.

The council, on suggestion of its chairman, St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Ross, agreed to an open meeting of technical representatives of the gateway council with technicians of industrial interests for a public airing of differences over certain pollution abatement values; general abatement goals; the potential effects of some of the recommended controls upon area industry.

The members, seeking postponement of final action, made it clear that they support most of the control regulations and agree generally with abatement goals, but feel that some of the control limits recommended are not technically or economically feasible "in this industrial area."

Not Considered
"I would like to make it clear," Bienecki said, "that neither the Granite City board nor its technical secretary were ever consulted by any members of the East-West Gateway Council from Madison and St. Clair counties."

"My belief is that it is the consensus of the Granite City board that its recognized efforts in air pollution abatement in Granite City warranted such consideration."

Mayor Partney was among Madison and St. Clair county officials who testified at the East-West Gateway Council's public hearing at the SIU-SW campus in October.

Reviews National Meeting
Reviewing the National Conference in Washington, Bienecki said he and Macias obtained "substantial packets of helpful data on the many problems of air pollution abatement, published by local agencies throughout the country."

"We said many of the documents which will aid the local commission with any enforcement problems, were prepared by the public health service, universities and consulting firms in the field."

While in Washington, the two local men attended a conference conferred with Cong. Melvin Price, who commented that of 26 cities in the national metropolitan area in the highest category of particulate suspension, 40 (Continued on page 22, col. 5)

Meeting Becomes Closed
The council, meeting at 2 p.m. in the offices of Mayor Gavett in St. Louis, immediately went into a closed executive session that lasted an hour and fifteen minutes. Newsmen and photographers, who had been told the meeting would be an open one, were told later of developments by Ross, Mayor Gavett and Mayor Alvin G. Fries of East St. Louis who is assistant vice-chairman of the council.

The meeting was closed for the meeting of technical advisors and said it would be held soon, possibly within a week, to "permit the technical committee to debate and consider the technical objections raised by industry."

Ross said he has not abandoned the idea that an agreement on a pollution control ordinance for the entire Illinois-Missouri Metropolitan area can be reached, but he said that if no solution is found in the approaching discussions he intends to request Missouri's Gov. Hearnes to apply for federal intervention for establishment of air safeguards.

It was understood that major industrial interests met last week with Illinois members of the Gateway Council to discuss proposed controls of the air pollution control ordinance based upon the Interstate Air Study, but generally agreed upon by many members of the Gateway Council. Industrial objections, spearheaded by the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, which submitted voluminous documentary testimony in public hearings held by the Gateway Council, are based primarily upon specific control values of various pollutants.

Cost Is Tremendous
Industrial spokesmen contended that some of the values set by the Air Study and embodied in the Gateway Council in its recommended ordinance involve only (Continued on Page 24, Col. 1)

MORE ABOUT County EOC

Centers may need renovating, Walker explained.

He told the Press-Record the $225,000 federal grant would replace 90% of the program's total cost, with the remainder to be financed by "in-kind" services furnished in local communities.

Local Cost May Go Up

"According to the OEO, local contributions will be increased to 20% of the total cost on July 1," Walker said. As written, the program requests federal aid to operate the centers through Sept. 30, 1967.

Jerry Lacey, an Illinois OEO official, attended Monday's meeting. However, no indication on whether the program will receive Washington's approval has been received.

As determined by a survey the most needed service in a depressed area is health, followed by employment aid and legal aid, Director Harris said. "Through neighborhood service centers, we hope to bring broader employment opportunities, encourage higher education and better health services," he added.

The agencies were requested to respond in writing to the county commission within a week and express their endorsement of the program or otherwise.

Walker also told the Press-Record the county office had been formulating the program since August.

"Due to the recent congressional action on which anti-poverty program funding we had to adjust our original proposal and slashed about $100,000 from the first budget we prepared," he said.

MORE ABOUT Bartylak

Administration expenses have been "cut to the bone," he related, "including the fact that I will direct the total project, without any additional pay."

Walker recently was transferred from director of the Tri-Cities EOC office in Venice to assistant director for overall poverty programs in the county under Harris.

Local Groups Attending

Those representing local groups at the meeting included B. J. Davis, Granite City acting superintendent of schools; Eugene Roe, Boy Scout executive; Mrs. Anna Mae Moore, Madison county Housing Authority, Madison; Jack S. Ableson, Tri-City Red Cross chapter chairman; Roy Lynn, Protestant Welfare.

Sister Mary Paul and Sister Mary Philomena, St. Elizabeth Hospital; John Solonberger, United Fund executive director; Robert Quinn, Madison county department of public aid; Victor Popovsky, Granite City office, Illinois State Employment Service; Jerry Slaten, Quad-Cities Mental Health Center; C. A. McMillan, Coordinated Youth Services; Mrs. Louis B. Parker, Illinois Youth Commission; and Bruce Groshing, county probation officer.

Other officials represented the Collinsville, Bethalto, Edwardsville and Alton school districts; Family Services and Visiting Nurses Association; Alton-Wood River Union of the Illinois Employment Office, also attended.

The 120-student Coolidge junior high school concert band will present its winter concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 20, in the Granite City high school auditorium, Director R. D. Todoroff has announced.

Seasonal selections will be presented along with other band music. The public is invited to attend.

MORE ABOUT Pay, Allowance

Bartylak last week was ordered to appear in circuit court at Edwardsville upon his release from the hospital to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court.

He had been ordered by Associate Judge L. H. Streeter to turn over $5500 to the estate of the late William H. Becker of Collinsville, for which he had served as a private attorney in 1963, by Nov. 25. The money was paid last week.

Last summer circuit judges ordered him to turn over funds from his office to the county treasurer after he had been delinquent in filing financial reports with the treasurer and the court.

The same communities, Elmer Churchill from the Illinois Employment Office, also attended.

Also surviving are a sister, Carol Annette Keel, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamm of Granite City.

Births in Madison county during November declined far below the number reported for the same month a year ago, according to statistics released yesterday by Miss Eulalia Hotz, Madison county clerk.

The report showed 144 boys were born last month, compared to 184 in November 1965, and the 139 girls born last month, compared to 177 in the same month a year ago.

The total of 283 births reported last month was a drop of 21 percent below the November 1965 figure of 354, while 184 marriages were reported last month, a drop of only two below the 186 of November a year ago.

Area Delegates Urge Medical School at SIU-SW Campus

A large delegation of Madison and St. Clair county representatives presented their case for bell, president of Presbyterian location of a new medical school at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago.

In this area before a subcommittee of the Illinois Board of Higher Education at Springfield Tuesday. They supported their plea with extensive documented testimony.

Similar pleas for location of the proposed medical school in their areas also were made by delegations from Rockford, Peoria, Decatur and Champaign-Southern Illinois area.

The mayor pointed out also that the combined population of Madison and St. Clair counties is in this immediate area, but in now estimated at 552,000, and all of downtown, and told that a projection of statistics in communities there is a tendency for graduates of medical schools of the two areas will be $20,000 to locate in the vicinity of their medical schools. There is no medical school located outside the city of Chicago, he noted.

Urges SIU-SW Site

He told the committee that the Southern Illinois Conference of Mayors, adopted a resolution last Jan. 25 expressing the desire of 39 communities that the school be located in the Madison-St. Clair area and that it be affiliated with Southern Illinois University.

He said that for the state as a whole, there is one physician for every 795 persons, but in 31 counties of southern Illinois there is only one physician for every 1443 persons.

In Madison and St. Clair counties, he said, there is one physician for every 1485 persons. In one Southern Illinois county, he noted, the ratio is only one physician for every 3464 persons and there are six other counties that have only one physician for every 2000 persons.

Average age of physicians in southern Illinois, determined by a 1964 survey, was 53.1 years, while physicians located in urban areas averaged 52.4 years of age. An analysis of the number, distribution and selected characteristics of physicians in southern Illinois, whether metropolitan, small city or rural, showed that none had a large enough number of physicians to serve the county adequately, there being 731 physicians to serve a population of 1,654,966, Mayor Partney said.

Partney noted in his appearance before the committee that "the conclusion reached by the survey was that if needs for adequate medical care are to be met, the number of physicians in southern Illinois needs to be doubled."

Doctors Also Testify

Figures presented by Partney also were borne out by talks by Dr. Abron Grandia of Alton, president of the Madison County Medical Society. Dr. William Walton of Belleville, representing the Board of Higher Education, the St. Clair County Medical Society board will make its recommendations to the Illinois Legislature which is scheduled to convene in Springfield, Jan. 4.

November Employment Up Over Same Month of 1965

November employment in the Quad-City area totaled 19,964 workers in 64 reporting firms, an increase of 902 workers over the November figure of a year ago, but a drop of 739 below September this year. Durable and nondurable goods statistics make up the manufacturing firm reports.

Government employees hired by three reporting firms showed 1881 workers, of which 1694 are in federal employment, nine in state employment and 178 in local government employment.

Total figures, in addition to the November figure of this year, 18,690. Projected employment figures show a slight drop anticipated next month.

Estimated employment at the same reporting firms in January is fixed at 18,904.

Social Security Deductions Will Increase Jan. 1

Social Security deductions of employed persons and contributions of self-employed workers will increase Jan. 1 under rate schedules made effective last year with enactment of Medicare additions to the Social Security law.

The deduction of employees will increase one-fifth of one percent, or one cent on each $5 of earnings, to increase the total employee deduction to 4.4%. This is an increase of two-tenths of one percent over last year's total employee contribution of 4.2% of earnings. This amount is matched by the employer and will be paid during 1967 on the first $660 of earnings.

The new deduction will include 2.9% for retirement, disability insurance and one-half of one percent for hospital insurance. For the year just ending, the deduction was 3.85% for retirement, survivors and disability insurance and 35 of one percent for hospital insurance. Contributions of self-employed workers will rise one-quarter of one percent Jan. 1, according to the schedule, bringing to 6.4% the total contribution of self-employed workers. This includes 5.9% for retirement, disability insurance and one-half of one percent for medical. During 1966 the total contribution has been 6.15% for self-employed workers.

Two Troop 8 Boy Scouts Receive Eagle Badges

The highest award in Boy Scouting was conferred on Donald Durbin and Russell Gertsch, members of Boy Scout Troop 8, during an Eagle Court of Honor held Tuesday evening at the First United Presbyterian Church.

In an earlier ceremony, merit badges and service pins were awarded to troop members, including a 20-year scouting pin to Cleo Evans, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 8.

More than 60 persons attended the public ceremonies conducted by Rollin Henn, Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council, vice-president, Victor Drexelius, council advancement chairman, and Fred Rehagen, Unwinked District advancement chairman. The latter official reported the findings of the Eagle board of review and related the qualifications of each youth to receive the award.

The new Eagle Scouts and their parents were escorted by an honor guard which posted the flags and troop colors beneath a large replica of the Eagle Award. The invocation was offered by Rev. Franklin C. Pierce, pastor of the Nameoki Methodist Church, followed with brief remarks by Boris Filcoff, troop committee chairman.

Presentation of the Eagle Awards was made by Scoutmaster Edward Yates, while the council representative presented the Eagle certificates to the youths' fathers. Each boy then pinned his mother with a silver miniature version of the Eagle medal. Benediction was given by Rev. Paul R. Sims, Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist Church pastor, to conclude the ceremony.

The Durbin youth joined Scout Troop 8 in March 1963 from Cub Pack 91, sponsored by the Nameoki Presbyterian Church. He received his Star Scout award in July 1964 and was invested as a Life Scout in January 1965.

A freshman at Coolidge junior high school, Durbin, 15, currently serves as senior patrol leader of Troop 8 and has held numerous patrol and troop offices. During the recent summer months, he served on the staff at Camp Sunnen, Mo., and is one of three Quad-City Boy Scouts who plan to attend the International Boy Scout "world jamboree," to be held for the first time in the U. S. next August.

In achieving the Eagle Award, Durbin qualified in swimming, cooking, firemanship, reading, salesmanship, camping, leatherwork, home repairs, world brotherhood, safety, first aid, public health, citizenship in the nation, citizenship in the community, personal fitness, painting, soil and water conservation, nature, life saving, marksmanship, public speaking and canoeing. He is the son of Mrs. Vyvynne Durbin, 1844 Venice avenue, and C. Ray Durbin of Florissant, Mo.

A Granite City high school sophomore, Russell Gertsch, 15, joined Troop 8 in April 1962, from Webster Pack 8. In November 1964 he received his Star ranking and a Life Scout in June 1965.

Presently serving as assistant senior patrol leader with Troop 8, Gertsch has filled several patrol and troop offices. He also worked with Rev. Paul R. Sims to obtain his "God and Country" award. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gertsch, reside at 1614 Garfield avenue.

Among his qualifications are badges in scholarship, stamp collecting, home repairs, first aid, safety, pet care, pioneering, citizenship in the nation, citizenship in the home and community, music, camping, painting, soil and water conservation, firemanship, cooking, physical fitness, reading, lifesaving and swimming.

In the troop awards ceremony, Star Scout rankings were awarded to Ronald Kulenkamp, James Thorne and John Perdue, while Don Menke received his Life and Star Scout rank. First Class scout awards were presented to Terry Buxton, Richard Kagy, Kulenkamp and Perdue.

Boys receiving Second class pins, included Michael Byington, Earl Fanning, Richard Harper, David Robinson, Richard Trindle and David Whittaker. Tenderfoot pins went to Kenneth Filcoff, Tommy Morris, David Raub, and Gary and David Robinson.

Scoutmaster Yates and Troop advancement chairman Maurice Steele each received five-year service pins. Other pins went to Bruce Evans and Dennis Rice, four-year; Clifford Edrington, three-year; Tom Champion and Austin Lewis Jr., two year. Several scouts were issued one-year pins.

A social hour was enjoyed following the ceremonies, with refreshments served by Mrs. Cleo Evans and Mrs. G. W. Kulenkamp Jr. Two large decorated cakes, inscribed with the names of the new Eagle scouts, centered the table.

Former Grid Warriors Starring at College

Seven former Granite City Warriors football stars, attending schools from Nebraska to Indiana, were awarded varsity letters after this season's grid play.

According to Dr. Ervin Pitts, head football coach and director of athletics at Peru State College, Peru, Neb., former Warriors Ron Yates, Nick Petrillo, Doug Winfield and Jim Rains were awarded letters on the basis of their play during the 1966 football season.

Yates, who filled an end and halfback slot for the Warriors, is a junior at Peru State and won his third letter. Petrillo, also a halfback, was awarded his first varsity letter at Peru, where he is a sophomore.

Winfield, also a sophomore, was awarded a second letter this season, he is a former Warrior quarterback. Rains earned his first letter this year as a freshman.

Ernie Kerns, who was a team co-captain this season, was awarded his first varsity letter for grid play at Southeastern Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

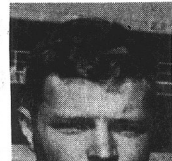

Southeastern Missouri, which finished with a 7-2 season record, captured the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship this season. Kern played linebacker and offensive guard for the Indians, who finished with a 4-1 conference record.

Kerns told the Press-Record that any success he has had in college football he owes to the coaching he received at Granite City high school, especially from coaches Jim Morrison and Stan Voick. Kern was a Warrior grid co-captain in his last year in high school.

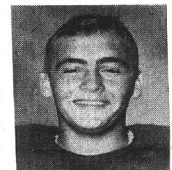

John Evenden, a former Warrior attending the University of Iowa, received his first varsity letter for play this season as a defensive tackle. Ray Nagel, head Iowa football coach, described Evenden as "the best lineman in play this season," and "one of the best Iowa has ever produced."

"Evenden, who is a sophomore, jumped from third to first squad early in the season, and immediately fulfilled the responsibilities of a varsity player," Nagel said.

Eric Robertson, former Warrior guard and linebacker, was awarded his second varsity football letter at DePaul University, where he is a junior. The DePaul coaching staff described Robertson as an alert, aggressive defensive linebacker.

Trojans Show Power, Speed to Top Dupo 89-62 in 1st Conference Game

The Madison Trojans rallied from a halftime tie to win their Midwestern Conference opener with Dupo 89-62 Tuesday night at Madison. It was the third victory of the season for the undefeated Trojans.

Adjusting their offense to clamp down on the shooting of Dupo's Marc Hurt, who tallied 20 points in the first half, Madison stormed back in the third period to outscore Dupo 26-6.

Madison had led 18-17 at the first period post and the score was even, 30-30, at the half. With a 68-48 edge entering the final quarter, the Trojans added another 21 points to the Tigers' 14.

While the Trojan defense was cooling off Dupo, which scored on better than 50% of its shots in the first half, Madison's Gary Lusk and Joe Collins turned on the steam, shooting from all angles to pull the Trojans in front to stay.

Scores Six Straight Goals
Collins netted six straight goals and was credited with seven rebounds in the third period. Lusk captured scoring honors with 26 points. Ron Burt followed with 23 points. Collins tallied 14 and Albert Boyd scored 13. Other Trojan scorers were Neal Podoba, seven points, Steve Gerold, four, and Dennis Latham, two points.

Burt started in first-half play by tallying 16 points.

Dupo has yet to win in five games, but by staying with a deliberate style of offense in the first half the Tigers threatened to achieve a major upset over the highly-regarded Madison quintet.

Height for rebounding also gave Dupo an advantage. Hurt finished the night with 28 points to lead all scorers, but only one other Tiger was in double figures.

Trojans Win Speed Test
The Tigers continued their pressing, man-to-man defense in the second half but eased up slightly when they began to get into foul trouble. They fell behind and unsuccessfully attempted while on offense to outrun the fast Trojans.

Madison hit a torrid 35 of 56 field goal attempts in the game, including an even more sizzling 23 of 29 in the second half.

The Trojans also had done their free throw homework and netted 19 of 24 charity shots. Dupo scored a respectable 27 of 59 from the field and hit eight of 14 free throws.

The Trojans will host Triad tomorrow night.

Nurses Alumnae Annual Party

The Nurses Alumnae Association of St. Elizabeth Hospital annual Christmas party and pot luck dinner was held at the hospital Tuesday evening with officers, Mrs. Martha Bischoff, Mrs. Georgia Harlow, Mrs. Jean Lucido and Mrs. Frances Robbers, serving on the hospitality committee. Seventeen were present.

Instead of the usual gift exchange among the members a contribution was made to the Doctor's Memorial Fund at the hospital. In games, a number of prizes were awarded.

The last six months have been among the busiest in our 52 year history. Business has been good; it has been so good that we have already reached our profit quota for 1966. Most of any extra profit we make now would be paid out in taxes. Therefore, we've slashed prices throughout the store with only 3 things in mind:

1. We want to show our appreciation to our customers and friends in the Quad-City area for making this the greatest year in our history by offering them an opportunity to buy all their Christmas gifts at "After Christmas" prices.

2. We want to reduce our overstock now instead of waiting 'til after Christmas.

3. We want to open up 500 new accounts before the end of the year.

Therefore, we've marked down all merchandise, some as much as 30% to 60%, just as if it were after Christmas already but, you can still have it delivered in time for Christmas.

State Plans Visual Art Center for S. Illinois

Establishment of a visual art center for southern Illinois, possibly in the Quad-Cities area, is to be studied by a special formulating committee of which Eugene Aiassi, art director for the Granite City school system, will be a member.

Aiassi was named to the special committee this week by Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, who is to work with William Bealmer, assistant to Page.

"I'll do my utmost to promote this area for the construction of the building which will be used not only to display professional and student art works, but also will be an in-service training center for teachers in fine arts," Aiassi said.

The visual art center would be a Title III project of the National Arts and Humanities Act, Aiassi explained.

The first meeting of the new committee will be held next month.

Public to Give Views At Jr. College Hearing

The Illinois Junior College Board's public hearing on the proposed Lewis and Clark Junior College has been set for Wednesday, Jan. 4, at 7:30 p.m., in the Edwardsville Junior high school gymnasium, St. Louis Road (old U.S. 80).

Purpose of the hearing is to give the public an opportunity to speak for or against the proposed junior college district.

Those wishing to testify at the hearing should contact Wilbur Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools, in Edwardsville, telephone 618-686-4782, by Tuesday, Jan. 3.

The proposed district takes in the outer boundaries of all the school districts of Madison county, all of Jersey county, most of Calhoun county and parts of Bond, Greene, Macoupin, Monticello and St. Clair counties. This area has a population in excess of 300,000, and an assessed valuation of almost one and a quarter billion dollars.

Faster Holiday Mail by Using Zip Code Numbers

"ZIP Code will help put ZIP and greetings. You should shop in your Christmas mail." Postmaster Theodore Overbeck said today.

"This year, more than ever before, the use of ZIP Code is essential to efficient delivery of the more than eight billion pieces of holiday mail that will be handled by the postal service just before Christmas."

Postmaster Overbeck is urging all residents of Granite City to make a concerted effort to include the five digit number in both the address and return address.

"ZIP Code helps cut down the number of times a piece of mail must be sorted before reaching its final destination. This saves time in delivery and cuts down the cost of moving the mail."

"We expect a record-breaking mail volume this Christmas and we will need all the help we can get," Postmaster Overbeck said. "There are three easy ways in which you can cooperate with the postal service and at the same time assure that you get on-time delivery for your holiday gifts."

MORE ABOUT Lewis & Clark

said after Monday night's meeting that he doesn't believe "we can come to any conclusion" until a state-level meeting is held. Graves has said he has been unable to call a meeting of the entire state commission because it was impossible to get a quorum.

Members of the Industrial group have offered a compromise from their original proposal of a small park of around 30 acres and are reported prepared to go along with a park of around 300 acres so long as it does not take in the riverfront area needed for harbor facilities as an outlet to the industrial park.

Referred to Commission Gov. Kerner, in his executive order creating the Illinois Commission and naming Graves as Illinois representative on the National Commission, referred the problem to the commission as a whole. Recently, however, Graves tossed the issue back into the laps of local members, pointing out that it is a local problem and should be solved locally.

Carl Rant, secretary of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority and one of the principal backers of the harbor plan, said the land sought by the large park proponents on the riverfront is unsuitable for a park. He said engineering reports show the area floods on an average of once every five years.

It was understood that no negotiations with the Illinois Park authorities have been initiated to determine the extent of state participation in future park maintenance and operation.

From now on all the clerks who serve you at A&P will be wearing bright red aprons and smocks.

In other words, you'll be seeing red... but you'll be happy about it, especially when you need help.

There won't be any problem spotting a friendly clerk. Need help finding an item? Have a question you want answered? Look for the clerks in red. They'll be glad to help.

This is another vivid example of how A&P tries to make shopping easier for you... tries to prove A&P cares about you.

So come to A&P. Where else can you see red and like it?

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

'Mod' Rotary Program; Replies from Vietnam

"Mod" style clothing for young men was exhibited and discussed in a talk by Wayne Scannell, president, at yesterday's Madison Rotary luncheon. Alex Markel was program chairman. Attendance was announced as 100%.

With Madison Rotarians having sent Christmas cards to all servicemen listed in the Press-Record's Yule Mail Call, several replies have been received and Rotare read. Those writing from Vietnam said it is comforting to them to know that they are in the thoughts of local residents. George Frangoulis headed the project.

HUD Reviewing Madison-Venice Request for Funds

A joint application by Madison and Venice for federal funds to finance a comprehensive planning and zoning study is now being reviewed by the Housing & Urban Development Agency, the Madison city council was informed at a meeting Tuesday.

Mayor Stephen Maeras read a letter to that effect from U.S. Housing Minister Price. HUD said that it expects to complete the review soon and then will be ready to act on the request. The application, filed a year ago, was delayed because of a large backlog at the federal agency, which ran out of funds for the purpose in the last fiscal year.

During the meeting, the council passed a resolution which required holders of liquor licenses to post liquor bonds. The mayor commented that the bonds would be a burden on the liquor industry and placed an unnecessary burden upon tavern owners.

Street Maintenance. The council passed a resolution appropriating $20,000 of motor fuel tax funds for maintenance of arterial streets during the year and designating Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab as the consulting engineering firm.

Fees for services to be provided by the engineer, the same as last year, are for projects costing up to $250, $535; up to $250 to $500, $835; up to $500 to $1,000, $1,135; up to $1,000 to $2,000, $1,435; and more than $2,000, $1,735.

The council voted to release the last half of the December payroll to city employees before Christmas.

Burn Disposed. An agreement by Madison and Venice to use a tract of land in the Watson area for disposal of burned debris was approved.

Mayor Maeras reported that the city has received its annual report for the year 1955. The report, which was prepared by the Chain of Rocks Bridge from the city of St. Louis, but which will be for last year's taxes, shows the future of the bridge heavily reduced, as the city no longer derives an income from the bridge.

Surety bonds of $200 with the Maryland Casualty Co. were approved for special policemen Don L. Bridick and Stanley Blazczak.

The Madison County Eastern Star Society was granted permission to conduct a campaign in Madison March 2 and 3.

The mayor commented that he has received one complaint about a new alley light between the block of Fifth and Sixth streets. The other homeowners were pleased to have the light, he added.

Faces Disorderly Charge. Clarence R. Graham, 40, of 2905 Myrtle avenue, was arrested by Madison police at 7:45 p.m. Monday on a charge of disorderly conduct. Officers said Graham called the police station, identified himself as a deputy sheriff and discussed a "warrent" for a date he said was in Nell and Ray's Tavern. Police reported they went to the home of Nell Graham, who pointed out as the man who had called. He posted cash bail pending hearing Dec. 28.

Wilson Christmas Program. The Wilson school program of the Wilson school PTA will be given at 7:30 tonight in the all-purpose room of the school. Sixth graders will perform under the direction of Mrs. Constance Jenne, music teacher.

Mrs. Donna Kogay, Mrs. Martin Bollinger and Mrs. Joan Yetter. The December meeting of the Women's Society of World Service of Good Shepherd EUB church was held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Faye Burke, 2317 Wilson avenue.

A social time followed, with Mrs. Janet Corbett presenting the lesson, "Mission, the Christian's Calling," with several members of the group taking part. The members revealed their "secret pals" and exchanged Christmas gifts.

A Christmas theme was carried throughout the evening in decorations and refreshments. Mrs. Burke served refreshments to Mrs. Barbara Hessel, Mrs. Wanda Sherman, Mrs. Janet Corbett, Mrs. Mary Ivey, Mrs. Katy Waters, Mrs. Roberta Gardner, Mrs. Jean Thompson, Mrs. Josephine Matthews and two guests of the group. Mrs. Betty Wallace and Mrs. Diane Hessel.

fractious differences in the extent of abatement, but will cost industry many millions of dollars to comply with the slightly higher abatement requirements. In some instances, it has been pointed out, the differences in the abatement accomplishments proposed ordinance, vary only from two to four-hundredths of one percent. But that slight difference would mean expenditures by industry of many additional millions of dollars.

Townsend pointed out that the dispute over some facets of the program is a complex problem on which experts fail to agree, and that industry was called in "to get their side."

Mayor Fields told newsmen that Illinois members are not in favor of "scuttling the ordinance," but that they feel it was "useless to adopt this (the ordinance) today when we knew that Illinois municipalities and counties would reject it."

In the memorandum filed by the objecting Illinois members, they said they agreed in general with the goals of abatement expressed in the Gateway Council's report, but that they believe some of the specific control limits recommended in the report are not yet technically "or economically feasible in this area."

The memorandum said further: "We particularly question the limits established for emission of particulate matter from fuel burning and processing operations, limits on sulfur content for coal, limits on sulfur compound emissions from new industrial sources, and certain proposed measurement and enforcement techniques."

"While we strongly endorse the earliest possible action to achieve the ultimate goals of control we feel that they either are not technically possible at this time or would require excessive costs to industry for marginal improvement of emissions. These limits would result in extensive granting of variances which is an unsatisfactory and intrusive procedure. We therefore recommend that until practical means of achieving the ultimate goals are available, we support further study of control measures which can practically be enforced."

Protests by industry, primarily over sulfur dioxide control values and particulate limitations have played an important part in

Pvt. John W. Chandler, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Chandler, Rural Route One, has completed a 13-week ballistic missile repair course at the Army Missile and Munitions School, Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

Pvt. Chandler was trained in the maintenance and repair of propulsion and launch systems of the Pershing, a surface-to-surface, forward area troop support missile. His wife, Sandra, lives here.

Public Hearings Held
A series of public hearings was held in September and October by the Gateway Council on both sides of the river, concerning detailed control regulations set out in the Air Study. The Industrial Waste Control Council, headed by Donald Cairns, plant engineer of the blast furnace department of the Granite City Steel Co., presided as witness at all of the public hearings and documented their testimony with extensive technical findings to support the recommendations of the Air Study requirements there is no existing technology to comply with the regulations of the Air Study.

These factors were supposed to be considered in the drafting of an air pollution control ordinance for the entire Illinois-Missouri Metropolitan area. Industry, particularly in the Illinois-Missouri area, insists control specifications as contained in the Air Study and adopted generally by the Missouri delegation of the Council will impose a financial hardship upon industrial plants that are sincere in efforts to help abate air pollution, but would be financially pressed to meet the standards proposed.

As the Gateway Coordinating Council met yesterday in St. Louis, the National Air Pollution Conference in Washington D. C. was drawing to a close with decisions that obviously will lead to federal regulations that could, and probably will, offset those so long in the making in this area. Practical concern of the national conference was for the establishment of national air pollution standards, and for more federal funds for support of local programs. Some members believed financial incentives to industry would be worthwhile government contribution.

Rep. Ralph Smith Said to be 'In' As House Speaker

State Representative Ralph Smith of Alton reportedly had the inside track to election as speaker of the Illinois House yesterday after Cook County Republican delegation swung its support to him.

GOP representatives attending a caucus in Chicago Tuesday favored Smith two to one in a straw vote following agreement that the speaker's post should go this year to a downstate representative rather than one from Cook county. Smith, a former Granite Cityan, was favored over the next leading candidate, Rep. John C. Parkhurst of Peoria.

The vote was taken after Rep. William Pollack of Chicago withdrew his name from the race and threw his support to Smith. Smith said that if there are no unexpected developments, he believes he will win the seat.

With the support of Cook county, he said, he needs only 20 downstate votes and he is certain he has more than that. Smith's supporters predicted a first-ballot victory for the candidate after the switch of most of the Cook county representatives during the caucus. Smith, 51, has been a state representative for 12 years, having been re-elected Nov. 8, in the 1963 session of the General Assembly he served as majority whip and was designated campaign manager for Charles Carpenter in Carpenter's 1963 bid for the governorship.

State Rep. John W. Lewis of Marshall, also a candidate for the post, said he will not be bowing to the caucus action. The Camera Plan Explained

The Holiday Agency, 905 St. Louis avenue, East St. Louis, advised the Press-Record this week that it is giving away snapshot cameras to some local residents as a means of explaining a motion picture film processing plan. Those offered cameras are permitted to pick them up if they decline to have a professional salesman visit their homes, a spokesman said.

straw vote by the Cook county delegation gave Smith 15 votes, Parkhurst eight, two to Lewis and two to William Walsh of La Grange Park.

Surprise Phone Call from Hong Kong for GC Mother

A surprise phone call from Hong Kong proved a delightful Christmas present in advance of the holidays for Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Nunery, 4200 Bruner avenue, Pontoon Beach, when their son, Pfc Wayne Nunery, who is stationed at Tuy Hoi, Vietnam, called home unexpectedly last week while enjoying a short leave in the Crown colony.

Mrs. Nunery told the Press-Record, "The connection was wonderfully clear; he sounded as if he was right here in Granite City. He said he is on a week's furlough and appeared very impressed with Hong Kong, saying he would like to stay there quite some time as he couldn't begin to see all the sights in a month or even 12 months."

"I don't know what the rate of exchange is on the Hong Kong dollar," Mrs. Nunery commented, but Wayne mentioned it was costing $100 per week for a hotel room and $1 for a breakfast.

She went on to say that her son enjoyed receiving the Press-Record and found it a good way to keep up with the news at home. He also praised the idea of the "Yule Mail Call" lists and said the fellows would certainly appreciate hearing from people. "This is a good way of letting them know where we are," he added.

The 21-year-old soldier reported that three other Granite City youths, stationed with him at Tuy Hoi, headquarters for the Sixth Battalion of the 29th Artillery, include Jimmy D. Castille, Robert R. King and Raymond D. Hillmer. All four entered the Army together in November 1965 and arrived in Vietnam in September.

"We are all o.k. Mom, and haven't been too close to the hot combat areas," the soldier added, telling his mother not to worry. "It's not much worse than being stationed anywhere else."

Before joining the Army, Pfc Nunery was employed at Universal Match Corp., St. Louis. He was graduated in 1964 from Granite City high school and worked after school and weekends at Kirchner Hardware Store. He said he expects to remain in Vietnam for the next eight or nine months.

GC Ranks No. 1 Downstate in Job-Related Adult Classes

Granite City ranks first among downstate school districts in its adult preparatory and supplementary classes, a new report on trade and industrial education programs compiled by the State Board of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation discloses.

The category consists of employed adults taking night training, directly related to present or future jobs.

Next among the top 15, in order, were Rockford, Joliet, Decatur, Alton, Franklin Park, Springfield, Bloomington, East St. Louis, Moline, North Chicago, Maywood, Aurora East, Bellevue and Freeport.

Of 8338 apprentices in the state, Chicago has 5450 and downstate 3918. The 3918 include 2134

Granite City schools have 300 young adult apprentices, the most in any downstate school district, (62.3% of the occupation field) are 7.9% of the downstate total or 3.3% of the Illinois total.

Supplementary students here number 442, topped by Joliet's 548 and Rockford's 476. Downstate total is 6372 and statewide 7903.

Other Granite City adult students number seven, highest figure listed, compared to 145 downstate and 1450 statewide.

In a discussion of the report submitted to the Granite City school board Monday night, M. A. Witternongel, director of adult and vocational education, said that of 4085 Illinois trade and industrial graduates in 1965, 64.2% obtained full-time jobs rapidly. It is known as Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA).

Decision Due in Month on Nameoki Substation Work

New bids on proposed construction of facilities for a Nameoki Station post office have been received by the Post Office Department and will be negotiated with the contractors during the remainder of this month, according to Richard F. Record, postal real estate dealer at Mattoon.

The number of bids received recently was not disclosed except that there was "more than one."

Whether or not bids were within the amounts approved by post authorities was not revealed.

Record said that an announcement either of a contract for the construction work or rejection of the bids will be made during January. Because of the holiday season and the fact that new bids must be discussed in negotiations with bidding contractors, it is not possible to say just when in January the work will be completed, Record explained.

Efforts to obtain a contract for the post substation were made last summer, but bids were in excess of approved estimates. Record said negotiations were held with bidding contractors, but it was impossible to bring the amounts within the specified limits. All bids were rejected.

New Bids Called
New bids were called and received last month. Bidders are asked to provide a location in general business area and to construct a building for lease to the government for five years with two five-year renewal options.

Building requirements are 600 square feet of floor space with a platform of 40 square feet and a parking lot of 2000 square feet. The new post substation is to replace that torn down to provide right-of-way for the Nameoki road improvement project. The station formerly was located at 3009 Nameoki road and is now located temporarily in a residence at 3912 Nameoki road.

Saturday is Deadline For Overseas Greetings

While postal authorities are unable to guarantee delivery of Christmas cards and letters airmailed to servicemen stationed overseas, Granite City Postmaster Theodore Overbeck said today there is a possibility that military personnel abroad would receive holiday greetings in time, if air mailed before Saturday.

Additional names and addresses of local servicemen received this week by the Press-Record for mailing in the recently-concluded "Yule Mail Call" are:

SP4 John D. Reeves, RA 17700458, 77th Heavy Equip. Maint. APO New York, N. Y. 09164.

Sgt. James A. Wilson, RA 17800417, Co. B, 32nd Sig. Bn. APO 60757, New York, N. Y. (Germany)

SP5 William G. Wilson Jr., Qts. 41-F-Belongs, Fort Richardson, Alaska 98749, Seattle, Wash. (Alaska)

A03 Robert L. Curtis, USN, 795-46-33, VF 21, Ordinance, FPO 96801, San Francisco, Calif.

Local postal authorities are urging Quad-City residents to mail all their holiday greeting cards and packages as quickly as possible to avoid the usual last-minute rush.

Postmaster Overbeck reported that 84,000 pieces of mail were cancelled Monday by the Granite City post office, resulting in the heaviest one-day mailing period to date. The average daily cancellation rate is approximately 20,000 pieces, the postmaster said.

They were married July 15, 1961, at Wood River and separated last May 27. Cruelty was charged.

Hospital to Seek Added Million Federal Building Funds

Additional federal funds will be sought by St. Elizabeth Hospital under its 20-year plan for a $6 to $8,000,000 modernization and expansion program. It was announced Monday afternoon by Sister Mary Thomas, administrator.

Under federal grants for hospital expansion, the hospital here could qualify for a million dollars in addition to the grant approved two weeks ago in the amount of $910,819 for diagnostic and treatment facilities.

The $910,819 grant was $300,000 under the hospital's application, Sister Thomas told members of the Lay Advisory Board, but steps will be taken at a meeting in Springfield Dec. 22 to get the full amount when added federal funds become available.

She explained that the local hospital has a high priority in federal circles for modernization and expansion. It was among nine hospitals in Illinois to receive a total of $8,000,000 in federal-state fund grants from applications amounting to $37,000,000.

Under the 20-year, multi-million dollar program, a fundraising campaign in the community is to be conducted. Sister Thomas said a professional fund-raising firm is to review the community and submit a report to the hospital next week.

She added that representatives of Dr. Anthony J. J. Rourke, hospital consultant of New Rochelle, N. Y., designers of the hospital's 20-year program, are to be here within the next two weeks for further sessions with staff physicians and department heads.

With the expansion to be carried out on property presently owned by the hospital, homes on the east side of the 2100 block of Iowa street are being purchased to provide parking. Board members expressed hope the city would enter into an urban renewal program to aid the hospital in its project.

While the 1930 wing of the hospital is to be razed under the federal assistance program, it was noted that such a project will not be undertaken for several years and that improvements still are needed.

Authorization was given for a drop ceiling in the emergency rooms and in the ground floor hallway of the old wing. Acquisition of a $17,000 monitoring machine for the planned intensive care unit at the hospital was reported by Sister Thomas, who said a staff is being trained at the junior college at Belleville. No starting date for the initial four-bed unit has been scheduled.

A. C. Stoeber, retiring president of the board, was given applause of appreciation for his two years in the office. Joseph Glik of Glik's Department stores, will take the advisory board office in January.

Navy Seeking Machine, Data Technicians

The U. S. Navy Recruiting office has established a special direct procurement program for data systems technicians and machine accountants with an option of two, three or four-year enlistments, according to Petty Officer Howard H. Pulliam, of the Navy Recruiting office at the city hall in Granite City. The office is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The program is open to men and women between 24 and 40 who have experience in maintenance, programming or operation of various types of computers. If eligible, enlistees can receive an advanced rating of First Class Petty Officer or Chief Petty Officer, depending on experience. Additional information may be obtained from the recruiting office.

A truck making a left turn from Madison avenue onto 21st street blocked the view of Irma L. Harriet, 2610 West 20th street, causing her auto to collide with that of Michael A. Suss, 2417 Angela drive, at 2:35 p.m. Monday, according to a report to police.

Draft Call for 2 Quad-City Youths Friday; 7 in January

Two Quad-Cityans are to report at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow to the county selective service office at Edwardsville for armed forces induction. They will be given an opportunity to request a Christmas leave, but must pay their own transportation and deduct the days from future leaves.

Eleven Alton area youths are to be drafted Jan. 6. No men married prior to August 1965 are to be drafted in January, the county draft board office reported.

A spokesman for the county draft office said all records on persons classified 1-Y are being reviewed and notices are being sent out for re-examination. There are about 60 Quad-Cityans with such classification and notices already have been sent to 37.

SIU Carbondale Night Classes Attract 9000

An increasingly growing number of adults are returning to the classrooms to improve their vocational prospects and general knowledge through evening courses offered by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Nearly 9000 persons have enrolled this year in non-credit courses offered by the University's Division of Technical and Adult Education, according to books.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD If Someone Would Answer

Dean E. J. Simon, who pointed out this is a vast increase over the 500 who participated when SIU began the evening program in 1950.

Courses are set up and administered in communities throughout the southern part of the state, with teachers obtained from schools in the locality. Most run one evening a week for 12 weeks, with nominal charge for tuition.

Microwave Phone Call To Moon Now Possible

Little more than 20 years ago, a new communications wonder called microwave was classified "Top Secret" by the U. S. Army. Today, this Bell System development is practically a household word. Microwave towers crown countless hillsides across the nations. "Like many other scientific developments, microwave communications got its first real test during world war II," Roy Wick-erham, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. science demonstrator, said here today.

Wick-erham, who travels thousands of miles in Illinois and Missouri each year bringing the story of telephone company progress to the public, addressed the Granite City Optimist club at a luncheon meeting at the YMCA. John Solenberg was program chairman and Roger Ward, local telephone manager, introduced the speaker.

Unique Characteristics
Wick-erham's current program, called "New Skyways of Communications," dramatizes some of the unique characteristics of microwave, a communications tool of growing importance.

"Basically," he said, "microwave is a means of radio communications — something which has a long history in Bell Telephone operations. As early as 1915, a telephone engineer in the United States talked to Paris by radio, and by 1927 radio-telephone service overseas had become a commercial reality."

Microwave, according to Wick-erham, is merely an extension of Bell Telephone work with other forms of radio communications.

"For many years," he said, "we had known that short waves of electrical energy transmitted from point to point could be put to work handling a fantastic number of telephone calls and other types of messages. What we lacked were practical means to get such a system into operation."

By the time world war II came along, telephone scientists and engineers were on the way to a solution. When the Allied offensive in Europe was launched, microwave equipment was ready. By setting up temporary microwave systems as they pushed forward, the Allies obtained high-grade communications facilities in the least possible time.

Commercial Application
"The first commercial applications of microwave came shortly later—in 1946," Wick-erham said. These provided links with the mainland for two famous islands—Nantucket, off the Massachusetts coast, and Santa Catalina, in the Pacific off Southern California. After that, things began to happen fast.

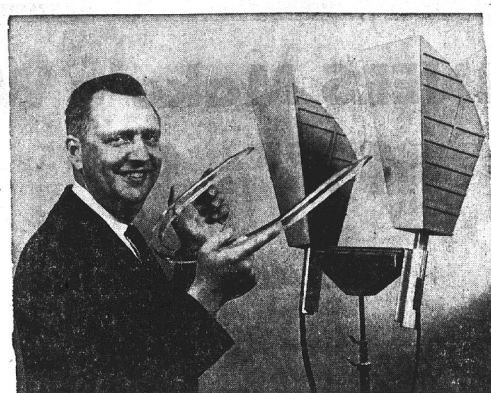

A Bell Telephone microwave pathway between New York and Boston, inaugurated in 1947, provided the first intercity route. In 1951 the first transcontinental microwave route went into operation.

"That first system took three years to build and cost 40 million dollars," Wick-erham said. "It involved construction of 107 towers, spaced about 30 miles apart. As you can imagine, it was a monumental task."

Echo Satellites
Later came the famous communications satellites, Echo I and II, which reflected microwave signals across the continent. "If there were just some one on the other end to answer the phone, we could talk to the moon by microwave today," he quipped.

But Roy Wick-erham doesn't worry much about distances like that during his science demonstrations. In fact, he estimates he's the operator of the world's shortest microwave system. It spans not a nation, not a state, but a single room.

Mishap on Car Wash Lot
Autos driven by Mildred Lewis, 2812 Warren avenue, and Donald Miller, 3009 Sunbury avenue, were involved in an auto accident at the rear of the Jiffy car wash, 1506 Madison avenue, at 1:25 p.m. Monday.

BENDING OF MICROWAVES around corners during transmission from one microwave cone to another. The telephone science demonstrator shown is Roy Wick-erham.

Patrick O'Brien, 61, Dies; Ill One Day

Patrick Thomas O'Brien, 61, of 2221 Grand avenue, died of apparent coronary thrombosis at 8:40 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been a patient one day. Mr. O'Brien had worked Friday and was believed to be in good health. An inquest is pending.

Employed as a metal pattern-maker for 22 years at General Steel Industries, Mr. O'Brien, who was unmarried, had resided locally for the past 25 years. He was born in Meta, Mo., and had lived in that area prior to moving here. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Mr. O'Brien is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary O'Brien of Meta; two sisters, Mrs. Walter (Mayme) Cassmeyer of St. Louis and Mrs. Joseph (Irene) Bal-kenhush of Jefferson City, Mo.; and one brother, James O'Brien of Mountain Home, Ark.

New Church Built by 'Aid of Many,' Dedication Set

Dedication ceremonies will be held Sunday for the newly built Southern Tabernacle Baptist Church of Lovejoy, a cooperative project that has been under way for three years with the help of its 331 church members and many persons from Granite City.

Rev. E. Stanley Howlett, pastor of the church who describes construction of the new modern church building as the "Miracle of Lovejoy," said the project could not have been accomplished without the help of the "many, many persons in Granite City who guided us and helped us financially and with contributions."

The building, together with its furnishings of all new pews, pulpit furniture and other items is now valued at $80,000, according to Rev. Howlett, who pointed out that many persons donated much of the furniture. Much of the work on the construction represented donated labor, he said.

Hundley, Rupp on Program
Speakers at the 3 p.m. dedication Sunday will include John R. Hundley, vice-president of Industrial Relations, and Fred Rupp, products sales manager of Granite City Steel Co. Also on the program will be Rev. R. B. Lyles of East St. Louis, moderator of the East St. Louis District Baptist Association.

Pellets Damage 19 Windows at SIU-SW

Vandals have shot 19 holes in windows of the science and communications buildings at the new Southern Illinois University-Southern campus, officials confirmed this week.

The shots came from either a BB or pellet gun after 11 p.m. last Friday and were believed fired by someone on foot. Fourteen shots penetrated windows in the science building and five windows in the communications building.

The windows, made of tinted glass are 13 feet square and three-quarters of an inch thick. Replacement costs were estimated at $40,000, but the university plans to plug the small holes with a water-clear substance, acetone, rather than replace them.

Talking Letter Project Extended 'Til Wednesday

Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, Tri-Cities Red Cross executive director, announced today the deadline for recording free talking letters for servicemen overseas is being extended through next Wednesday.

The annual Red Cross project was scheduled to end Saturday. Relatives of Quad-City servicemen stationed abroad may record their voices at the Red Cross office, 1411 Twenty-first street, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily. Commenting that the discs may not be received by the servicemen prior to the holidays, Mrs. Overbeck said, "I am sure the talking letters will be welcomed gifts at anytime and the recording machine is available to the Red Cross through Wednesday, so we decided to continue the service until then."

Those making recordings are only asked to mail the discs, Mrs. Overbeck explained, adding that a heavy-duty envelope and packing material is provided without cost, along with the record. Up to 15 minutes' conversation may be recorded, with several members of the servicemen's family participating in the single recording session.

Clear Day View of Construction at Granite City Steel

In the background, indicated by the arrow, is the Cargill grain elevator at Pontoon Beach. Ground was broken in March 1965 for the three-building structure for the new mill. All edger, roughing mill and finishing mill housings are in place inside. So are many of the electric motors which will drive the 105,000 horsepower mill.

About 9000 tons or 15,000,000 pounds of structural steel went into the columns, trusses, floor and other heavy members of the three elongated buildings. The longest of the three is 1900 feet or about four city blocks, in length. The recuperator stacks on the roof of the middle building will furnish preheated air for three "walking beam" type slab heating furnaces, the largest such furnaces ever built.

The 80-inch hot strip mill will roll the heavy steel slabs into hot rolled plate and sheet of a precisely-determined thickness.

INSIDE THE BUILDING (photo to left) along Madison avenue are workmen of the Mesta-Wilson-Foster, the joint venture contractor, assembling the huge rotor for a 10,000-horsepower motor which will drive one of the four roughing mills whose function will be to squeeze down the thickness of heavy slabs until they are about one inch thick, at ordered width and ready for further reduction in thickness in 7-stand finishing mill "train."

This rotor weighs 63 tons and is eight feet in diameter.

Tips Must Be Reported For Tax Withholding

Every employee who receives cash tips of $20 or more in any calendar month while working for one employer must report the amount of tips for the month to the employer, Jay G. Philpott, district director of the Internal Revenue Department for Central and Southern Illinois pointed out at Springfield.

Cash tips are subject to withholding of income and Social Security taxes and must be reported to the employer on or before the 10th day of the following month.

The IRS has available free of charge, Document 385, "Employees' Daily Record of Tips and Report of Tips to Employer," which explains requirements of the law. It also has available a supply of the forms to make the necessary reports, and provides space to record each day's tips for 12 months.

Philpott pointed out that tip income counts toward Social Security and Railroad Retirement benefits and may result in higher benefits for the employee and his family.

Added Christmas Features

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 40 Thurs., Dec. 15, 1966

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University
Christmas may be just as thoroughly observed in many other sections over the nation as it is in the vicinity of Southern Illinois University. Few other areas, however, will have a more varied observance. This is explained by the fact that the population of our state has come from many countries and races, each bringing along its own stock of lore and practices.

As the Christmas season comes it is interesting to note features of its observance and to trace their history. Some features are selected and commented upon here.

In the matter of fires, the pagan peoples of northern Europe lit great bonfires at the time of the winter solstice. Their purpose in doing this was twofold. They would show a measure of thanks to the gods who had turned the sun from its course toward disappearance below the southern horizon. They also believe that the glow of their fires drove away the evil spirits that hovered about.

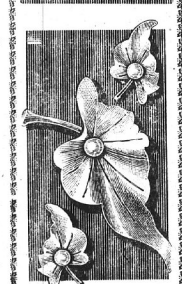

In their earlier observance, in fact for centuries, the fires were great ones that burned outside buildings. As castles and larger buildings appeared, the bonfire practice was somewhat modified and smaller hearth fires became more common. These however, were no puny affairs, for chimneys often were large enough for people to sit within their jambs.

Romance and Lore
It is around these wide hearths that much of the romance and lore of Christmas grew and still centers. It was at these hearths that the great yule log was burned at Christmas time. Sometimes men used ropes to drag the log by hand. At other times they used oxen. There still are two places of record in the nation where the Yule log is cut, dragged to the fireplace and burned in the ancient manner. One of these is in Virginia and the other in Colorado.

The scraps of the old Yule log were used to kindle the fire of the next year. Also, the storage of these burned pieces was believed a sure defense against the building being destroyed by fire within the next year, a cheap insurance policy.

Holly has stood in good stead for some 2000 years. Many consider Christmas decorations without holly as rather incomplete. Other evergreens used for decorations were ivy, bay and mistletoe. Most valued was the mistletoe from the oak tree. Even in recent years it has been used to decorate the high altar in York cathedral.

Mistletoe still has an important part in decorating at Christmas time. Some modern maidens not averse to the risk of being kissed, still defy the fables and stand beneath the twigs hung in strategic spots.

The Yule Tree

There are a number of explanations of how Christmas trees were introduced and came into general use. Some think that the vestiges of a vanished tree worship had left a fixed regard for trees, particularly the evergreens that appeared so much alive during winter. Whatever the reasons for its wide use, most of us agree it adds much to Christmas. Perhaps the story of Martin Luther and his Christmas tree is therefore, about as good a one of its introduction as has been offered. By that story Luther was walking on a starlit night over the snow-covered countryside on his way home. He saw a small, frost-covered evergreen. To him it was a custom to other lands. The first record of a Christmas tree in Illinois is that of one decorated in the home of L. Kov. Gustavus Koerner in 1838. Just when the party and feast- ing aspects of Christmas began in America is not definitely established. Perhaps it was when and they feasted on nuts, water- John Smith and his men feasted on "plenty of whiskey." There are numerous other Christmas season practices with their interesting stories, at least the holiday at the mouth of the Cache River, in Illinois, in writer. He relates that he went hunting with a party of Indians

Control Debt Before Investing

by Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I have been reading a great deal about the stock market in newspapers, have read several books on investing and can hardly wait until I am financially able to start investing.

My problem is that I have some quite large medical bills (for my income) which are likely to keep me strapped for some years. Would I be foolish to divert a little money from these bills into some long-term growth investments?

A. Much as I approve of the type of investments you want to make, and as impressed as I am with your enthusiasm and your taking the time to read up on investing, I must also speak out in favor of paying doctors.

As a matter of fact, it's a good idea to have all your debt under control before you start your investment program.

Also, I don't think it's a good idea to plunge too deeply into an investment program without some prior experience, no matter how well one does in the subject. So, why don't you get a group of friends together and form an investment club?

That would give you some practical experience and would hold down your investments while you are learning. Diverting $10 to $15 a month away from your doctor's payment probably will not cause him to object too strenuously.

Q. I bought American Cement at $13 a share and it is now quoted at $8. Should I sell?

A. Many Stocks Have Dropped

The drop by American Cement stock is really no different from what has been happening to a lot of good stocks.

Ask yourself why you bought it in the first place. If you bought it for income, you are better off now than when you bought.

Annual dividends on this stock are now 60 cents a year per share.

New 'Klondike'—Lead in Missouri

(American Chemical Society)

A lead "Klondike" is developing in Southeastern Missouri, according to Chemical and Engineering News.

The region contains some of the world's most promising new lead deposits and the largest lead discovery in the United States since world war II.

Various lead and mining companies will have invested more than $100 million in developing the region's lead resources by 1967, and new mines will produce about 250,000 tons of lead a year in 1967.

Better Insect Control

The synthesis of an insect's own moulting hormone may lead to better insect control, the American Chemical Society learned at its tenth national Medicinal Chemistry Symposium in Bloomington, Ind., December 10-12.

Dr. E. R. Klotz, who has been synthesizing in a 22-step process, directs moulting, or the shedding of the insect's outer skin in the larval stage, he explained. Dr. John B. Siddall of Syntex Research, Palo Alto, California.

By disturbing the balance between ecdysone and juvenile hormone, which inhibits moulting, the insect's life cycle can be disrupted. Knowledge of ecdysone's structure may lead to new chemicals or techniques for insect control.

Before the ecdysone synthesis, tons of silkworm pupae, or cocoons, were needed to obtain few thousands of an ounce of ecdysone.

URGES THAT MISSOURI KEEP TRANSPORT MUSEUM

To the Editor:

As a Member of the National Museum of Transport, I want to explain the reasons for my support of the recent controversy.

The discussion centers first on the preservation of the museum's principles; secondly, on the proposed East St. Louis relocation.

The Museum, a non-profit, educational corporation, represents almost 500 members who wish to preserve transportation artifacts and provide educational programs to tell the story of man's social and technological progress.

Museum members are determined to preserve these "national treasures" and to begin to profit, educational principles for the layman and the scholar.

Current proposals for the museum's relocation threaten the corporation's basic purposes and future service to its members.

Since other cultural activities—the City Art Museum, the Zoo and the St. Louis Symphony—depend upon public support, the present proposal threatens the Museum's basic purpose of service to the public.

Election of Quad-City to Levee District Presidency Long Overdue

It is tempting to say "we told you so" now that Venice and Madison sewer treatment changes are running higher than the Granite City rate.

In siding with their longtime political allies in the East Side Levee & Sanitary District, the two cities passed up an opportunity to participate in the most practical, economical and geographically logical solution—joint Quad-City plant to treat sewage before it is released into the river.

But it would be more constructive at this time to point out that if the leopard will never change its spots—if East St. Louis levee district politicians are going to continue their high-cost, low-benefit, outmaneuver-the-public tactics—we had better change to another breed.

The candidacy of Board Member William Ebersold of Venice for the presidency of the levee board is welcome news. It has been many years since a Madison county resident held that position.

With his record to date, and with the help of the other Madison County residents, Joseph G. Mr. Ebersold's elevation to the presidency could lead to more businesslike practices in one of our major taxing agencies.

He would then be in a position to represent Quad-City with an effectiveness that has been difficult to achieve throughout most of the levee district's long history—difficult due to the fact that East St. Louis voters outnumber the voters of this community.

Even in recent years, Madison and Venice residents have paid a high price for their political leaders' cooperation with St. Clair county area officials. Examples are the $100,000 non-compete levee district treatment plant bond sale of 1965, wasting an estimated $329,000, and the district's continuing failure to install promised North Venice storm sewer.

"Legislation" was described at last week's levee board meeting as the major need, but competence and integrity rate higher priority. Maybe a new era can be launched beginning with the Jan. meeting.

Nameoki Township Should Drop Litigation on Grigsby School

Now that the Illinois attorney general has declined to attempt to block Granite City annexation of Grigsby junior high school, the Nameoki township board ought to drop the matter at this point, rather than initiate further harassing litigation.

Provision of governmental services in incorporated-unincorporated border areas is a headache at best; it is in such fringe sections that basic services usually are lacking.

Jurisdictional challenges further complicate the task of such agencies as the community unit school system, which has more to do in planning, building, equipping, staffing and developing the curriculum for the major new seventh, eighth and ninth grades attendance center.

If there is really an alternative to eastward ex-

Chemist Salaries Rising

A qualified chemical engineer or chemical engineer fresh out of school is awaited by a chemical industry eager to pay the services and willing to pay higher salaries to get them, according to a report by 1967, and new mines will produce about 250,000 tons of lead a year in 1967.

The 1966 demand for chemists is 44% over last year, and the need for chemical engineers is up 60%, the weekly reported. Monthly salaries average $20 to $30 more this year. Assuming the American Chemical Society's estimate, monthly starting salaries for B.S. chemists in industry will be $625 in 1968 and $700 by 1972.

A farmer can now breed all his cows at the same time and they have them calve together. Dr. G. W. Duncan of the Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., reported to the American Chemical Society symposium. This can be done by adding a chemical relative of the female hormone progesterone to castrated chickens.

When the farmer feeds his cows the treated feed, he's better able to schedule artificial insemination, reducing the number of calls made by the breeder and saving fees, the chemist added. The hormone is given for 18 consecutive days.

No foreseeable development of the surroundings—a complex of scattered industries and thick "dust" from the Continental Grain elevators—makes a cultural program compatible with the surrounding area.

Since highway access ramps from the Poplar Street Bridge will be 2.3 miles from the proposed site, visitors would have to travel inadequate service roads and cross six sets of railroad tracks used for switching trains. With school grounds, industrial safety hazards, not to mention time delays, are all too obvious.

Considering such handicaps, the museum members doubt that the public would support educational programs, much less visit the museum.

Since other cultural activities—the City Art Museum, the Zoo and the St. Louis Symphony—depend upon public support, the present proposal threatens the Museum's basic purpose of service to the public.

Completion of Committee Sets Stage for City Redistricting

With the membership of the Granite City ward reapportionment committee now complete, no time must be wasted in carrying out the redistricting task.

Citizens want representation inequities ended, and the calendar makes it clear that action must be taken promptly. The council must define new ward boundaries by early February in order for them to be effective for the April 1967 election, and the earlier the action, the more time there will be for aldermen to campaign in their new territory.

The urgency is realized by Aldermen Moerlen, Whitmer, Boyd, Green, Farmley, Seiberg and Thompson, whose terms will expire. Of this group, Whitmer, Boyd, Farmley and Seiberg serve on the seven-member redistricting committee along with three former council members, Dallas, Rutledge and Johnson.

It has been contended that most aldermen already have closed their minds to immediate redistricting, and that the committee even before meeting is expected to make a reality of boundaries unacceptable to most of the council. The study group can prove both allegations false by approaching the chore with a fresh viewpoint and devising new wards of reasonable shape and equal population.

The least possible alterations should be made within the context of equal representation. Some aldermen available soon will themselves in sharply revised districts, but surely those affected drastically can be kept to a small number.

Redistricting before the deadline is possible. How hard council members make it a reality will be one of the prime issues taken into consideration by voters in evaluating his performance.

Venice Park Bond Issue Will Achieve a Dream of Many Years

In issuing $224,000 in general obligation (property tax) bonds, the Venice park district is making use of a comparatively new state law permitting such programs without referendum. It may be one of the last such bond issues, since the legislature is expected to revise or clarify the 1965 law in its next session.

By utilizing the full half of one per cent of assessed valuation permitted, the park district has provided funds to bring about a significant improvement—acquisition of land to eliminate a present scrap yard on Broadway, and construction of a community center and administration building on the site. Federal assistance also is a possibility but may not be available soon enough if the project is carried out immediately.

While a competitive bond sale would have been preferable, there was doubt that bids could have been obtained from bond houses within the 5% interest and 20-year limits of the Illinois park code. Other banks in this area were informed of the availability of the bonds prior to the sale to the Madison bank at 4.68% over 18 years.

The tax rate will be eight to eight-and-a-half per $100 assessment except in the first year, when 18-month interest will be paid. For this amount, Venice property owners will see the achievement of a dream of many years—Venice Park extended to Broadway for almost its full width.

The setting for the new Venice park building, a tract immediately between the Venice Methodist Church and Venice public library, will be one of the most attractive in this region.

Entirely New State Constitution Sought by Commission; Decision Up To Legislature Next Year, Voters in 1968 and Convention in 1969

(Third of a series)
(Press-Record editorial analysis)

One of the most fundamental approaches to governmental reorganization in Illinois is at its target the framework of government structure in this state—the Illinois Constitution. This can be done by the General Assembly scheduled to go into session in January, the Constitution Study Commission formed to evaluate the existing document announced late this fall its conclusion that the constitution should be thrown out entirely and rewritten.

The commission voted unanimously to recommend a constitutional convention, at which the state's basic laws would be rewritten. The group, created by the legislature in 1965, consists of legislators and private citizens.

"The hazards are tremendous and the hazards are various, but we must try," in the opinion of the commission chairman, Rep. Marjorie Pomeroy (R, Riverdale).

If approved by the legislature in 1967 through a two-thirds vote in each of the two branches, a convention would be submitted to voters in November 1968. It would have to get a two-thirds favorable vote among those voting on the issue, or a majority of the total vote cast in that day's election.

Having hurdled these obstacles, the convention would become a reality. But its proposals might or might not be accepted by voters at a subsequent election.

Approval Uncertain

A public member of the commission, Elbert Smith, Decatur, Ill., is optimistic about the chances of the proposal. However, he feels the prospects are better in the 1960s than they were in the 1950s than they were in the 1940s.

Need for Public Awareness

Sen. Alan J. Dixon (D, Belleville) stresses that the convention call "would win voters' approval only if it had the support of the state's precinct chairmen of both parties. If the foot soldiers aren't with it, it's going to be dead. Unless every precinct chairman participates in this, the Senate will fail."

"People will be interested and perhaps receptive to our problems only if they understand them," he said.

In sanctioning the call for a convention, some members of the commission say they feel it is actually impossible to update the 1870 document on a piecemeal basis. They favor a drive to modernize the constitution from "A" to "Z."

Although amending procedures were eased by the Gateway Amendment approved in 1950, only slight structural changes have been authorized by voters since that time.

The public turnout for two proposed amendments on state taxation and on re-electing county treasurers and sheriffs—Nov. 8.

In "going for broke," the commission members attribute many of the political problems to the state's "rigid antiquated and unworkable" provisions of the 96-year-old constitution, which includes some wording now 118 and 148 years old.

Whether a new constitution could be passed by the legislature before the last one expires the century mark in age is doubtful.

Report to Assembly

Report following the Nov. 22 unanimous vote by the commission will be the filing of the commission's final report with the General Assembly early next year. The commission took no action last month on a number of recommendations it has received for structural alterations in the constitution. But its final report is expected to contain proposals relating to the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government.

If both the Illinois House and Senate approve a con-con by two-thirds, and if voters agree in the 1968 general election, the plan will be called by the 1969 legislature, which would select the machinery to elect delegates.

Convention delegates would be elected from each state senatorial district.

Whatever recommendations stem from the convention would become effective only if approved in another statewide referendum, by a majority of the total vote in a special election.

The commission's action was the fourth official vote raised in support of overhauling the constitution.

Six months earlier, Gov. Otto Kerner announced he would ask the General Assembly to call for a convention.

The Democratic party pledged in its state platform to work toward achieving a new constitution.

Republican Senate Leader W. Russell Arrington has pledged to ask his colleagues to support a resolution calling a convention.

Mayor Retain Commission. Although the report to be presented in January is listed as final, the commission may not immediately go into existence. Financed by a $25,000 appropriation so far, the commission has decided to ask for an extension of its life and to request $75,000 to operate during the July 1967-June 1968 biennium.

Rep. Pomeroy says that the group would be designated as a preparatory committee for the convention.

Assuming that some change in the constitution is needed, how sweeping should it be?

Solve Local Problems
Mayor Arthur Nattalin of Minneapolis said this fall in a address to the Illinois Assembly on the State and its Cities that state governments will be "fellowing" to trust their state government entirely to the judgment of future officials and legislators.

A few "shackles" seem inevitable to maintain fluctuations in the conduct of the General Assembly, whose makeup varies widely from one session to the next.

Sen. Edmund S. Muehlebach (D, St. Louis) urged reforms of state and local governments to equip them to meet modern problems. "The present organization of the state," he said, "is antiquated, they cannot meet the needs of the future, he said in a lecture at Washington University. In the view of Gov. Kerner, "Illinois needs not only a new constitution but one which should be a fundamental framework for democratic government, as opposed to a voluminous assortment of shackles."

What may result will be a delicate balance between grants of power to the state government and establishing limits beyond which such power cannot be exercised.

Few Illinois voters appear to be willing to trust their state government entirely to the judgment of future officials and legislators. A few "shackles" seem inevitable to maintain fluctuations in the conduct of the General Assembly, whose makeup varies widely from one session to the next.

The Law Serves You

Bankruptcy Not the Only Answer For Those Who Can't Meet Bills

(A public service of the Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association)

Is there an alternative to personal bankruptcy for the individual who cannot pay his debts as they become due?

The law recognizes that anyone can be financially embarrassed and it provides a solution, other than bankruptcy, for the man who feels he can meet his obligations but whose money runs out before he can do so.

One alternative the law provides is known as the Wage Earner Plan.

The individual desiring to effect the plan files a petition for the Wage Earner Plan in United States District Court. He lists his assets, his debts and his creditors and states his proposal for payment.

The court then summons both the secured creditors—those whose claims are secured by some property of the debtor—and the unsecured creditors to a hearing.

If all secured creditors and a majority of unsecured creditors agree, the court may then approve the plan.

The individual makes regular payments of a prescribed amount to a court-appointed trustee who, in turn, pays the creditors on a pro-rata basis.

The debtor may not incur any new debts without the permission of the court. But as long as he lives up to the court-approved plan, his creditors may not garnish his wages or enforce a wage assignment against him.

If it should prove impossible for him to continue the plan of payment, he still may be permitted to "take bankruptcy."

Maximum Earnings $1500 for Social Security Recipients

People receiving retirement or survivor's benefits can earn up to $1500 without having any of their social security benefits withheld, Ralph Brasher, social security district manager at East St. Louis, said today.

Any person receiving social security benefits in 1965 lost some benefits if he earned over $1200. This law was changed effective Jan. 1, 1966. What this means briefly is this: a beneficiary may now earn up to $1500 in a calendar year without having any benefits withheld. If this beneficiary earns over $1500, he will have $1 in social security benefits withheld for each $2 he earns over $1500, and up to $700. For earnings over $2700, $1 is withheld for each $1 earned.

Brasher said, monthly benefits will be paid for any month in which the beneficiary neither earns wages of over $125 nor renders substantial services in self-employment no matter how much the total for the year is.

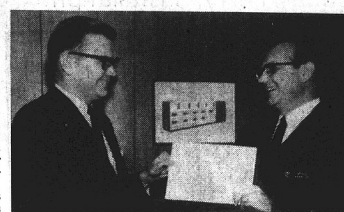

For more information, Quad-Cityans can call BRIDGE 4-2200 or EXpress 7-5638. The local social security office is at 433 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis.

Former GC Resident Is Ad Agency Veep

A former Granite Cityan, William V. Weston, was elected executive vice-president and a director of Ridgeway Advertising Agency, Inc., St. Louis, after a merger of 32-year-old Ridgeway and one-year-old Donnelly & Weston Advertising, Inc.

Weston, who went to Granite City high school and worked for a year at the Granite City Steel Co., is a graduate of the University of Illinois' Journalism College. He spent seven years at Gardner Advertising, St. Louis, as a copywriter and creative group supervisor. Responsible for several national accounts, he was named "Advertising Writer of the Year" by the St. Louis Advertising Club after winning all three prizes in the national magazine category for his work on the Jack Daniel's Whiskey campaign.

He is a son of Mrs. Nola Beckmann, 2316 Iowa street.

Conferences on Pupils' Progress Called Helpful

By a wide margin, teachers conducting parent-teacher conferences this fall feel they were able to explain pupils' progress more fully than through report cards, a report to the Granite City school board showed Monday night.

Parents' reactions, as observed by the teachers, also were favorable, in the opinion of 87 of 91 instructors.

Conferences held numbered 2648, an average of 29 a teacher. Non-attendance figure was 129, those contacted by telephone totaled 64, parents reached by letter numbered 28, and 40 were not contacted (due to non-interest by parents or a previous discussion with the teacher).

In general, teachers felt they had sufficient time for the 20-minute conferences but not enough time to write evaluations immediately following the meetings.

Possibility of written reports also being provided is being discussed, as well as scheduling later appointments so that more fathers can attend.

Exchange of Information Comments of various faculty members described the conferences as providing "better insight to the causes of children's attitudes, good exchanges of information, good rapport with parents, greater involvement of parents with child's progress, elimination of parental skepticism after the conference, good reaction to present pupil grouping methods, more meaning than an 'A, B, C' or 'O' S' grade system, and especially helpful for children working below their potential level."

In some cases, children have shown improved skills and work habits since the conferences, the board was informed.

The conferences, in which the teacher met with the father and mother, with the student not present, were conducted for "ungraded" or "achievement levels" classes at seven grade schools—Mitchell, Wilson, Parkview, Maryville, Nameoki, Niedringhaus and Frohhardt.

In some cases, pupils were dismissed two days while the conferences were in progress. Two or three conferences may be held this school year.

Friday is Mailing Deadline For Holiday Deliveries

Postmaster Theodore Overbeck today rang the warning bell reminding residents of Granite City that this is the last round for Christmas mailing.

All out-of-town Christmas gifts and greetings should be deposited in the mails by Friday, Dec. 16, to be fairly certain they will arrive at their destination on time," he said.

So far the day with the highest volume of mail in December has been Tuesday, when 110,000 pieces of mail passed through the Granite City post office. Postmaster Overbeck estimated that mail volume to date is running about 5% above the same period last year.

Nationwide it is expected that more than eight billion pieces of mail will be delivered just before Christmas—a new record.

The hours of the main post office until Christmas will be as follows: Weekdays—8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday—8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday—1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Mr. Achievers Plan Yule Programs for Needy Children

The Junior Achievement Achievers Association at the Granite City Center are planning to present Christmas programs at the St. Louis City House of Detention and the Missouri Baptist Children's Home.

Collections are being made each night by presidents of the J. A. firms to raise funds for gifts for the less fortunate children at these institutions.

Gene Rekowski, center manager, announced that Amco, the furniture-making company, leads the center in sales with a total of $742. Amco is second in sales in the entire Mississippi Valley region.

Donna Bolton, Amco president, leads all salesmen in the center with a sum of $89. Second is Valerie Slady with $63. Amco is sponsored by American Steel Industries.

Achievers on the J. A. bank staff, sponsored by the First Granite City National Bank, have a top attendance record of 96%, for the first nine weeks of the season.

Rekowski announced that Judy Sands, the secretary at the center on Wednesday nights, is leaving Junior Achievement as she is to be married on Saturday.

Miss Sharon Koch, last year's J. A. queen, will take over the secretary duties on Monday nights.

Southern Illinois University's school of Agriculture was created by the state legislature in 1865.

A new booklet, "Southern Illinois University and the Junior College Student," answers most questions. It can be obtained by writing to the director of admissions at either the Carbondale or Southern campus of SIU.

Admission requirements, conversion of semester hour credits to quarter hours, fields of study, tuition and fees tables, living costs, housing, student work and financial assistance policies are all discussed.

While written especially for Illinois junior college graduates, the information also is valuable to any college student considering transfer to another institution, according to Leslie J. Chamberlin, SIU associate director of admissions. The booklet is free.

Soldier Appreciates Card
From GCHS Red Cross

(Editor's note: The following is a letter of Pvt. Harold E. Pinkley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pinkley, 1829 Market street, Madison. The 19-year-old soldier, who was graduated from Madison High school two years ago and entered the service Sept. 30, is stationed at Fort Ord, Calif.)

Dear Sir:

I have just received a Christmas card from a Miss Marylin Clanton representing the Granite City high school Red Cross. If at all possible, I would like to ask you to publish a note of thanks from all of us here from the Quad-City area now in training at Fort Ord, Calif.

It's not very often that you find young people of today, or adults for that matter, who are this concerned about our present world situation and who try in some way to show their gratitude to those in the armed services for keeping "Old Glory" flying.

Enjoy Freedom

I, for one, never gave it much thought or consideration. I was wrapped in the thought of enjoying the freedom we now have, yet not giving anything in return. The same is true for millions of other young people of our nation today.

There are many a sleepless night for a young man in service today, not knowing whether or not he will be called upon to fight for his country, for his and your freedom. And maybe even to give his life protecting that freedom.

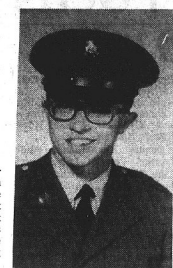

"America the Beautiful!" May it always stay that way. But to keep "Old Glory" flying there is a price that we must pay—not our forefathers nor our future generations, but each and every one of us, for everything worth having demands work and sacrifice. Freedom is a gift from God that commands the highest price.

Problems of Neighbors

All our wealth and progress are as worthless as can be without the faith that made us great and kept our country free. Nor can our nation hope to live alone. The problems of our neighbors must today become our own.

While it's very hard for the young people of today, and for most adults, to understand the complexities of war, each of us must realize that we are fighting for the principles of freedom and the decency of man.

Each and every one of us have a debt which must be paid to our forefathers who gave their lives that we might have freedom. They fought and died for us because they believed and had faith in what they were fighting for.

Of course they were afraid to die, just as we are today. But at one time have his opportunity they had a job to do, to maintain the freedom that you and I now take for granted.

"Up to Us"

It is now up to us, the young people of today, to maintain our freedom so that our children may also enjoy that same freedom.

As a land of liberty and a God-fearing nation, we must protect our honor and fulfill our obligation to our forefathers and to ourselves. So in these times of crisis, let's continue to offer no resistance in giving help to those who need our strength and our assistance.

"The Stars and Stripes Forever" will then continue to remain a symbol of a rich and mighty nation built on faith and truth and love.

It's so much easier for us to realize that there is a cause, a reason, a purpose for dying if need be, when there are young people like you of the Granite City high school Red Cross, those who show their gratitude for job well done.

We have yet to do our part. But there are many before us and many more to come who will die, just as we are today. But at one time have his opportunity

'Corky the Clown' Cheers Children at Hospital

A Christmas Seal "Friendship Tree" was presented to children at St. Elizabeth Hospital this morning by "Corky the Clown," well-known area television personality, who then distributed gifts and friendship cards to the youngsters. The tree was presented on behalf of the Madison County Tuberculosis Association. "Corky" then went to two other area hospitals and six St. Louis hospitals to distribute gifts and cards to children. The Friendship Tree, provided by the Tuberculosis Association, was decorated with Christmas cards. Hundreds of youngsters among "Corky's" viewing and studio audiences have helped with the project in recent weeks by providing cards for the 500 or more children who will spend Christmas in the hospital. A special feature of the tree at St. Elizabeth's is the assortment of cards made by three men patients at Madison County Tuberculosis sanatorium, fashion designer George Darling Jr. of Madison, pieces of TB Christmas seals arranged on a wide variety of Christmas symbols. Patients who participated in the project are Tony Novosel, 2459 Pontoon road, Lester Blankenship of Alton and John C. Carter of Collinsville. Novosel, an employee of Laclede Steel at Madison, is now recuperating at his home. He was discharged from the sanatorium after completing the Christmas card project. ## Have Money and a Car, Or Be an Athletic Star

Richard Yates, Granite City school district athletic director, has asked a question directed to parents and high school students in discussing the role of the athletic program:

"Is it more important for a boy to earn money than to participate in athletics?" In answering it, Yates says:

"Ask yourself this question—can a car or spending money offer the educational benefits that are found in athletic competition?"

"Upon close analysis we find that much of the money earned by a student after school is not spent wisely. Too early in life he finds he has larger sums of money and in most cases he has not been taught how to use it. This can create an unwholesome situation which carries over into adult life.

"Think of the many students who get a job to buy a car, and then work every available minute to support the car. The many recent surveys illustrate all too clearly the effect a car has on students' grades," Yates commented.

"Students anxious to work can usually find enough summer employment to afford them year-round spending money.

"Often parents are worried about injuries in athletics, especially in football, but figures from a study covering a period extending from August through December are revealing.

"There are about 240 motor vehicle deaths for each football death, 17 to 1 with firearms, drownings 25.9 to 1 and burns 5.7 to 1."

Non-School Sports Hazardous
"It is also reported that there are three deaths involving roller skates for every football fatality in all ages.

"Parents may state that they are not concerned with whether their boy may be killed playing football, but are worried about injuries. But if boys are not playing football, they are probably engaging in these other activities.

"Few statistics are available to show how many injuries result from cars, etc., for each football injury. Some people quote approximately 20 injuries in auto accidents for each traffic death.

"Rule changes, better coaching techniques and improved equipment are reducing the number of football fatalities and injuries each year."

Yates summarized with yet another comparison: "Did you know that there were over 15,000 disabling accidents on the country's golf courses in 1962. Ten thousand were struck by golf balls and 9% of those hurt were hit by golf clubs. Better prostration, over-exertion and golf cart mishaps added to the total.

"With more people participating in golf today, the disabling accidents have increased."

"When you compare the educational advantages of athletics with those of earning and spending money, and when you compare the safety of school physical education programs with other recreation, with traffic and with other activities, there is no question but that school athletics have much to offer local students.

"1. Get a price from at least three reputable new-car dealers."

"2. Have the dealer look you right in the eye and answer these six key questions."

"What's the current Blue Book on my trade-in? May I see it, please?"

"Does the total price you're quoting me include all the optional equipment I want?"

"Exactly how much will my payments be? For how many months?"

"What is the exact amount of interest I have to pay? No, not in percentage figures. Dollars and cents, please."

"What does this warranty really cover? Tell me exactly what I have to do to keep it in force."

"Will you service the car? Can I expect the same service from you next year, too? What about five years from now?"

In loving memory of DORA DAY RASH, who passed away December 14, 1966. Today recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest, but I think of you today, that you have gone out of sight, never out of mind. What I would give to see you smile, to sit with me and talk awhile, the blow I never sudden, the shock severe, to part with one I loved so dear. Often at night, the blow I never sudden, the shock severe, to part with one I loved so dear. Things you used to say and do, I wonder why you had to die without a chance to say good-bye. Sadly missed by your husband and friend, Herbert Rash. 33-12-15

March of Dimes Campaign Will Open Next Month

Three Quad-Cityans who have actively participated in numerous civic endeavors will serve as community chairmen for the 1967 March of Dimes campaign. In announcing the appointments, D. Dean Bridwell, director of the Madison County March of Dimes Foundation, noted that all three have occupied similar posts in previous fund-raising drives.

They are Mrs. Julia Voloski, 1610 Seventh street, Madison area; Mrs. Louise Jimereson, 1028 Market street, West Madison-North Venice area; and Milton Morris, 1300 McKinley street, Venice area.

Contributions again this year will be used to assist victims of polio, whose welfare still is of vital concern to the March of Dimes organization, persons with congenital birth defects and to prevent polio through the free Sabin oral vaccine program.

In addition, a portion of the money will help young people to continue their studies in the field of health education and further research work at the high defects center at St. Louis Children's Hospital.

The Quad-Cities March of Dimes campaign will be conducted throughout January, concluding with the traditional "Mothers' Patch-light March" when local residents are visited by block representatives who distribute free informative health booklets and solicit donations. No date has yet been set for the community-wide "Mothers' Patch" Jr. Service Assistants.

Plans for Madison's fund-raising drive currently are being made by Mrs. Voloski with the support and assistance of Madison Junior Service Club members. Last year, the entire campaign in the Madison community was coordinated through the women's service group, whose members also arranged the sale of peapods at high school basketball games with the proceeds supplementing the March of Dimes fund.

A past president of the Junior Service Club and an active worker in numerous club and community projects, Mrs. Voloski is the mother of five children, Paul, 19, employed with the Madison board of education; Charles, 16, a high school senior; Donna, 14, a high school senior; George, 12, a high school senior; and Milton, 10, a high school senior.

Fourth Campaign

Mrs. Jimereson, a life-long resident of the West Madison-North Venice area, is participating in the March of Dimes campaign for the fourth consecutive year. For the past five years, she also has served as Cancer Crusade chairman in the same districts.

Although employed at a St. Louis department store, Mrs. Jimereson also finds time to serve as vice-president of Dunbar Parent-Teacher Association and is a past president of the Henry Mitchell American Legion Auxiliary. She is the mother of seven children.

Airman Victor Morrison

Serving in Vietnam

Airman First Class Victor R. Morrison Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor R. Morrison sr., of 4120 Melrose avenue, is now in Vietnam in the light against Communist aggression.

Airman Morrison, a radio repairman, is a graduate of Granite City high school. His wife, Donna, is the daughter of George M. Smith of 2320 Miracle avenue.

Three older sons, all graduates of Madison high school, are Alvin Valentine Jr., 27, a veteran of nine years in the U. S. Air Force, who recently returned home following two years' duty in Vietnam; Willard Valentine, 25, now serving his sixth year in the U. S. Navy and stationed at the present time in Greece; and Victor Valentine, 24, who completed two years active duty with the Air Force earlier this year.

Mrs. Jimereson's other children are Ann, 18, a freshman at Southern Illinois University-Southwest; Terry, 16, a Madison high school junior; Sue, 15, a sophomore at the same school; and Mark, 13, a Dunbar eighth grade student.

Assists Handicapped

The Venice March of Dimes chairman, Milton Morris, also serves as president of "OATH." He has actively supported the establishment of the Sheltered Service Center, now in operation at 2007 Madison avenue, where area handicapped persons are being trained in various skills.

He is a member of the Madison County board of the National March of Dimes Foundation; the Illinois Children's Aid Society; the Uniwah District, Boy Scouts of America; and the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. Morris owns and operates the Milnor Manufacturing Co. His wife, Lorene, has served as a St. Elizabeth Hospital volunteer aide for several years.

Principal feature of the Venice campaign is the annual "Crippled Children's Ball," usually held in late January, which attracts hundreds of Quad-Cityans for an evening of dancing and entertainment benefiting the March of Dimes and the Venice Crippled Children's Organization. The latter group provides additional assistance to area handicapped youngsters.

Divisional chairmen and other key campaign personnel are in the process of being named by the local drive leaders.

Yule Lights Beautiful—But Watch for Stop Lights

Christmas lighting on roadside buildings and trees provides fascination, beauty and cheer, but the Quad-City Safety Council issues a warning that Christmas lighting is distracting to motorists.

Drivers should pick a safe place to stop before admiring these attractions. "Don't confuse that red stop light with colorful holiday decorations," the council adds.
